

Waldorf Astoria Maldives Ithaafushi Announces a Groundbreaking Eco Partnership

Parley Maldives, introducing Parley Air to end today's major ocean threats through creativity, collaboration and eco-innovation

Maldives 2023: As the threat of environmental destruction grows around the world, so does the concern at Waldorf Astoria Ithaafushi to address the fast-growing threat of marine plastic pollution and the importance of marine conservation.

They are excited to partner with Parley Maldives, the Maldives branch of Parley for the Oceans, where they address this threat through the new Parley AIR strategy – Avoid, Intercept, and Redesign. Parley for the Oceans addresses major threats towards our oceans, the most important ecosystem of our planet. It is the space where creators, thinkers, and leaders come together to raise awareness for the beauty and fragility of our oceans and collaborate on projects that can end their destruction.

Keeping in line with the Hilton's Travel with Purpose targets, the team has started the partnership with Parley. Firstly, they identify all types of plastics at the hotel that can be recycled, then intercept and collect them in the Parley jumbo bags and deliver the full bags to either Malé or Thilafushi. Once there, the bags are taken to the Parley facility to be sorted, baled and exported for recycling.

Further than committing to collect and transport all recyclable plastic from the island, Waldorf Astoria Ithaafushi also plans to:

- Encourage and educate all guests to emotionally connect to the ocean's life to ensure its protection for the future.
- Engage with the team to impassion them to become champions for the oceans, which is the source of Maldivian existence — their identity and livelihood.
- Work with nearby local community schools to foster an appreciation for the ocean, its ability to sustain and nourish, and the urgency of action to protect it.
